to keep him.

The Irish Catholic thinks that while Mr. Parnell has sinned nearly as much against Ireland as against morality, grave political exigencies demand that he be continued as the leader of the Irish National party. The Freeman's Journal hints that the Government is debating a surprise which will 2be sprung upon the Irish people at the approaching general election.

The Labor World, Michael Davitt's new paper, says that Mr. Parnell finds himself under a moral cloud brought into the atmosphere of his life by himself. The crisis into which he has plunged the Home Rule movement is the gravest with which it has been confronted for the past ten years. There is, the paper says, but once courter the Irish lender to cursue. He must face himself from public life until that brief period shall have elapsed which will enable him to legally marry Mrs. O'Shea.

This advice of Mr. Davitt to Mr. Parnell is attracting more attention than any similar utterance on this subject. Owing to Davitt's undoubted freedom from prejudice, and his great reputation for fairness in such discussions, it is quite generally considered that he has handled the grave question in a manly fashion, opposing himself to the hysterical resolutions of the League sidered that he has handled the grave question in a manly fashion, opposing himselito the hysterical resolutions of the Leagueto stand by an individual at any cost to the community. Davitt is, probably, the only one of the Irish leaders who could give such advice at this juncture without incurring the suspicion of selfish motives. He is wholly out of the grena of political strife, and is pledged to conside his influence to literary pursuits. His opinion that Mr.

Parnell should temporarily efface himself is thought by close observers to reflect the sentiments of the masses of people outside of active politics.

of active politics.

Mr. John Morley, speaking at Sheffield to-day, said that the Liberals had a duty to-ward Ireland which stood on its own ward Ireland which stood on its own merits. This was no time to consider the case of Mr. Parnell. Right Hon. A. J. Mundella, or Mr. Gladstone's former ministry, also made a similar statement in the course of an address to his constituents. These speeches are taken as giving the cue to Mr. Gladstone's attitude on the subject. If so, they would indicate that the Liberal leader intends to treat Mr. Parnell as a political figure, entirely ignoring his personality, and paying no attention to the developments in the divorce case. In this he would have ample precedent in English political history.

OMAHA, NEB., Nov. 20.—A l'ine Ridge, S.
D., special says that General Brooke and the military, humbering a few less than tour aundred, arrived at Pine Ridge agency at 7 o'clock this morning, after one of the ranghest forced marches ever experienced to the oldest members of the command. The troops suffered materially from the told during the march of twenty-live miles, which was begun at 12 o'clock. The roads are so rough that several wagons were overtimed on the way, and a teamster named Burke, from Vert Romah, was buried under one of them, as hip being broken, Many long delays were caused by such accidents. There were no hostiles to meet the soldiers when never a morning the entire valley. Jack Red Cloud and a lot of the fanaties were at Wounded knee, twenty-live miles away, putting ne finishing touch on a four days' Ghost lance. This is the day set for he Messiah to appear in the form of a buffalo, but up to noon no stray Messiah nor buffalo has been reported on the esservation. The Indian police have all essumed their duties. There are seldom any Indians about the ngency, excepting in issue days, consequently there is a lack footiles about the post, most of them eating down on the reservation at the various illures, where they are holding their rowes in define of the orders of the agent. STILL ON THE WAR DANCE.

OMAHA, NEB., Jov. 20.—An Indian from Wounded Knee gives the information which has caused agents and all to put on a more serious look. Coming in this afternoon, he reported that he stile tadiates at Wounded Knee were stiff carryiny on their dances, and that they had neard of the arrival of the military, but what is of much more importance to the agent, they have strapped on their guns and are denoing fully armed. They declare that they will meet the soldiers, and will not hestiate to go into battle with them.

Reports relative to Indians declaring their willingness to fight for the religious craze have come in frequently, but up to this time are simply rumors. This information comes direct, however, from a source which Agent Royer pronounces trustworthy, the man who carried it being one of the agent's own carriers.

TROUBLE IMMINENT. "I think it is just as well that people outside be placed in possession of exact facts in this case," said Mr. Boyer. A special roll of the kings says that there is no apparent cause for alarm at the agency. The few Indians there are all walking about quietly, stoically indifferent to the presence of the troops.

The second prize was a watch, which was won by our Mr. Wynnekoop, who, by the way, was the favorite of most of the crowd, as he was cheered every time he secured a ring. The silver plated purs were won by the Knight of Lancaster; and the fourth prize, a saddle, bridle and martingale, rewarded the efforts of the gallant Knight of Whitestone.

After the riding for prizes was over the tilting began for honors, and resulted as follows: Mr. Carter Cowls, as Knight of "Forge Road," won the right to crown the queen, and bestowed that upon Miss Kitty Ware, of Trano.

MR. GILL REPLIES TO STRIC-

TURES OF MR. BALFOUR.

Study Koch's System-New York Gossip. NEW YORK BUREAU RICHMOND DAILY TIMES, November 20, 1890.

Mr. T. P. Gill, the only member of the rish Parlimentary delegation in New York, commenting to-day on Balfour's speech as reported by cable, that "the course of events in Ireland afforded a shocking commentary on the travelers tales with which these two distinguished fugitives from justice were regaling them," Mr. Gill said century, had witnessed the career of the greatest statesmen of the age, Gladstone might judge of the temper and reliability of Balfour's opinion when he spoke of such a man as Gladstone in such a style. The three-masted schooner Mattie Newman has had her main and mizzen masts broken off close to the deck. The schooner left here last Sunday for York river, Va. When off Absecon last Tuesday morning she was hit by a violent gale, which carried away the masts.

The steamship Normanni, which left here to-day for Hamburg, took away a number of American physicians who are going to Berlin to study the system of Professor Koch. Among these were Dr. James Guiteras, the representative of the University of Pennsylvania; Dr. David Edson, Dr. D. W. Campbell, of Michigan; Dr. Ludwig Weiss, of Michigan; Dr. Ludwig Weiss, of this city, and Dr. Charles W. Ellis. Dr. David Hunter McAlpin will leave on the Lahn next Wednesday with the same object in view. He goes as the representative of the Carnegie labratory of the Believue Hospital Medical College, and will meet in Berlin Dr. Edward K. Dunham, another instructor in the Carnegie labratory, who formerly worked under Dr. Koch and who has been for some weeks making a special study of the remedy.

disturbance, and whether others like it not, we know and we propose to declare on every occasion that America is the freest and the best and the greatest country on the face of the globe. That proposition is not original with me, but has been a settled fact in the America mind for many years.

The word "our."

Though this might be said to dispose of the subject by a short out, and though I have declined to deal with it in all its aspects, the American disposition to glorify our country is strong with me, and I am disposition to glorify our country is strong with me, and I am disposition to glorify our country is strong with me, and I am, January 18th; Savannah, January 26th; ment in a manner quite so snammarily. If I am to retain it for a few minutes, I know of it, and consider one branch or part of my lexit, as is sometimes done with a long text in the pulpit.—I, therefore, propose to say something about the word "Our," as related to the sentiment "Our Country," as related to the sentiment "Our Cou

The formal opening of the New York Academy of Medicine in west Forty-third street near Fifth avenue to-day recounts many interesting details incidential to its construction. The corner-stone of this magnificent editice was laid by Grover Cleveland on October 2, 1889. The cost of the whole establishment, amounting to some $250,000, has been provided for by its members and their individual friends without calling on State or municipal treasuries for a dollar. Equally remarkable is the fact that the expense of the ground on which the building is erected has been paid up in cash, and the indebtness of $20,000 tor furnishings is held in the form of obligations due to the fellows. There is no mortgage whatever on the building or its belongings.
